X-MEN: THE LAST STAND -EXTRA

Level 3

This level is suitable for students who have been learning English for at least three years and up to four years. It corresponds with the Common European Framework level B1. Suitable for users of TEAM magazine.

SYNOPSIS

Warren Worthington Senior is dismayed to learn that his own son is a mutant. He is a very wealthy man and spends many years in the search for a cure for the mutant 'problem'. He builds a special laboratory on Alcatraz Island and eventually his scientists discover a cure after studying a young mutant (Leech) who is able to remove the special powers of other mutants.

Magneto (a powerful mutant leader and enemy of the X-Men) believes that the government will use this cure to wipe out all mutants. He gathers an army of mutants around him and prepares for war. He enlists Jean Grey, who did not die at Alkali Lake as the X-Men had feared. She is the most powerful mutant in the world, but she cannot control the darker side of her personality, known as the Phoenix. In the struggle to win Jean back, Professor Xavier loses his life.

When Magneto and his army decide to attack the Worthington Laboratories on Alcatraz Island, the X-Men, joined by Hank McCoy (government cabinet minister for mutant affairs and a former X-Man), know that they have to stop this attack. Initially the army use cure guns against Magneto and his mutants, but Arclight (who is able to radiate powerful sound waves) destroys these guns. The X-Men arrive and are able to hold Magneto back – that is until Jean Grey joins the fight. Her power threatens to destroy everyone and everything, but Logan (due to his ability to heal his body) manages to reach Jean and finally kills the woman he loves.

THE BACK STORY

X-Men: The Last Stand (2006) is the third film in the series based on the popular X-Men Marvel comic. It was directed by Brett Ratner and was preceded by X-Men and X-2 which were directed by Bryan Singer.

Once again, X-Men: The Last Stand presents a world in which a significant minority of people have special powers. The rest of the world treats these people with suspicion, and so the films can be viewed as an allegory of discrimination against others simply because they are different.

As the final film in the series, X-Men: The Last Stand resolves storylines that have run through the previous films: for example, Logan's transition from a loner/outsider to team player and leader, and Rogue's decision to take the cure so that she can finally be close to her boyfriend, Bobby.

MEDIA LINKS

DVD: The film of X-Men: The Last Stand is available on DVD. The first film (X-Men) and second film (X-Men 2 or *X-*2) are also available.

CD: A recording of X-Men: The Last Stand is available to accompany the Scholastic reader.

HOW TO USE YOUR SCHOLASTIC MEDIA READER

Choosing and motivating

Is this the right story for your class? Have your students seen any of the three X-Men films? Motivate them with background information. Read aloud the first page of the story with dramatic atmosphere.

Organising

Plan a class reading schedule. Decide how many pages to set for reading each week. Select exercises from the Self-Study section at the back of the reader and extra activities from this resource sheet to go with each chunk of reading. (All answers are on page 4 of this resource sheet.)

Using the CD

Students can listen and follow in their books. Alternatively, they can listen and then read or read and then listen. All these activities will improve their reading speeds and skills.

Using the DVD

Try to get a version of the DVD of X-Men: The Last Stand with English language option. The film is 104 minutes long. Watch it yourself first in case there are scenes that are not suitable for your class. Show it in chunks of, say, 20 minutes in parallel with the class reading schedule. Alternatively, just choose one or two scenes to focus on. Or show the whole film in two sessions, perhaps over two lunchtimes.

Glossary

Go to 'New Words' on the inside back cover of the reader. Translate the words with the class or get students to find meanings using a dictionary at home.

Casual language

Introduce the informal expressions used in X-Men: The Last Stand (see Vocabulary Builder on page 3 of this resource sheet). Put them into context. Ask students to look out for them as they read.

Fact Files

Set these as self-study or use for whole class work. They give readers a look at the making of the film, provide a history of the X-Men comics, and give background information about important locations in the film.

What did they think?

Get everyone to do a written or verbal review of the book. Compare opinions. Did you like it? Let us know at: readers@scholasticeltreaders.com.

FACT FILE FOLLOW-UP

THE FILM (pages 56-7)

Quiz

Everyone reads the Fact File about the film. Then in small groups, students prepare 5–10 questions on the information. The groups then close their books and take turns to ask the other groups their questions.

Audition

Each student chooses a character to audition for. They find a section of dialogue in the story and practise it with other students. Ask three students to volunteer to be the selecting panel. The panel watch all the auditions and then decide which student is the best for each role.

MARVEL AND THE X-MEN COMICS (pages 58-9)

Research / Presentation

Students work in small groups and research another Marvel super-hero (or team of super-heroes), such as the Fantastic Four, the Incredible Hulk or Spider-Man. What are their special powers? How did they get their powers? Has a film or films been made about them? Each group should make a poster and present their findings to the rest of the class.

Interview

Students work individually to invent a super-hero they would like to be. They can choose any of the powers described in the book or choose other powers. Students then work in pairs. One is a journalist asking questions to find out about the latest super-hero. The other plays the role of the super-hero and answers the questions. Then students then swap roles.

SAN FRANCISCO (PAGES 60-1)

Research/Writing

Students make a list of other information they would like to know about the city of San Francisco. They can find this information in the library or on-line. They could then present their findings as a poster or web page.

Survey

The class develop a survey to see where people would most like to visit in the USA. The class should agree on a list of ten destinations and then students ask as many people as they can which places they would most like to visit. They should then present their results to the rest of the class.

DVD/CD FOLLOW-UP

If you plan to show the film in class, watch it yourself first. Check that it is suitable for your students and identify good places to stop or pause. Explain that the dialogue is fast and slangy, with American accents.

Writing Dialogue (DVD)

Choose a short scene and show it to the class without sound. Students write their own dialogue in groups. They perform their versions for the class, dubbing the silent film. At the end, play the scene with the sound up.

Observing (DVD)

Choose a short scene and prepare questions on it. Tell students to watch and observe details about clothes, setting, etc. Play the scene a couple of times and then ask your questions. Play the scene again for students to check their answers.

Predicting (CD)

Choose a scene that students have just read. Play a short section and pause the CD halfway through a character's speech. Students predict the rest of the speech. Play the CD to check answers.
